

Behold the King

His Zeal for God's House - Matthew 21:12-17 (page 826)

On Sunday, Jesus entered Jerusalem as King. On Monday, He enters the temple and displays both His zeal for true worship and His authority as King. He clears out corruption, makes space for the outcasts, and reveals His power. This passage challenges us to right worship, radical love, and full surrender to Him as our King.

Behold, the Zealous King (21:12-13)

He entered the temple.

He drove out and overturned the corruption.

He said, "God's house is a house of prayer for the nations." (Isa. 56 & 49)

Behold, the Loving King (21:14-16)

He healed the blind and lame.

He received the children's praise.

Behold, the Authoritative King

He declares His authority...
