The men who wrote the books in our New Testament all had a connection to Jesus!

This man, Muratori, found this document almost 300 years ago, but it was written 150-200 years after Jesus was born! On it is a list of books that people believed should be included in the New Testament.

There are two places circled on the map: Milan (Italy) and Israel.
- Draw a heart over the place where the New Testament events took place.
- Draw and X over the place where this document was found.

Almost 200 years later, a group of men very carefully decided which books should be included in the New Testament. These are the books we have in our Bibles today. We call this the New Testament canon. We believe they're the books God intended for us to have!

Council of Rome New Testament (382)

God preserved His Word over thousands of years so that we would have it today! How can you make it an important part of your life?
